Commissioner Powell,

My wife and I are appauled with the notion of relaxing the rules governing the number of outlets a single person or corporation can own. One has only to sample the late night AM fare to realize it is all very "right" and totally unbalanced.

I, the husband, was a life long Republican who dropped my party affiliation when Newt Gingrich suggested we disban P.B.S. It seems to me, intelligent folks need diversity. Some of the best programming is available on P.B.S. I.E. Washington Week In Review, and Bill Mowers, Now. To fill the airwaves with one sides opinion is counterproductive. Please leave the limits in place!
